

THE STATE LOSES.

Yesterday the case of Ormsby county against the State of Nevada where the plaintiff sued for $298.75, election expenses was decided in favor of the county for the full amount.

It was appealed by the State and will go to Judge Rising. The case was exactly similar to the Lyon County case and will in the court of final judgement be decided the same way.

The case involved the payment of extra compensation for extra insertions of advertisements and although the same question has been decided before on two occasions the State Attorney thought that he could persuade the Court that extra work did not call for additional compensation and lost just as every one else who has attempted it.

Another issue of the case was the charging for fees by salaried officers when doing State work. If the Sheriff does official work for a private individual, he collects a fee and turns it into the County Treasurer.

Now, why in the name of common sense should the county officers be compelled to do State work for nothing.

The Court very probably held that it could not be done. It was also held by District Attorney Torreyson for the County, that the County had incurred the expense and the Legislature had appropriated the money to pay after a full knowledge of the expense incurred.

How a State Board of Examiners can disallow a claim for which the Legislature has made an appropriation is past the comprehension of anyone outside the Board, yet that is exactly what the Board attempted to do when it disallowed the special election bills.

PIXLEY ON SILVER.

The San Francisco Argonaut has this to say of the insincerity of some Republican leaders on the silver question: The Free Coinage Silver Bill has passed the Senate of the United States by a vote of forty-two ayes to twenty-five noes. I have to be returned again to the House of Representatives. It will probably be subjected to another committee of conference between the Senate and the House. It has yet to receive the approval of the President of the United States. It has been the fight of a forlorn hope in the trenches. Wall street the combined and desperate money gamblers, plutocrats, usurers and dishonest politicians of the country have banded together to obstruct the remonetization of silver and the fight is not yet won. President Harrison, the Secretary of the Treasury and the leading Republicans have acted badly, and in the opinion of almost universal sentiment, dishonorably. If men like Senators Allison, Cullom, Dawes, Edmunds, Everts, Frye, Hale, Hawley, Hiscok, Hoar, Morrill, Platt and John Sherman—all of whom are Republicans, most of whom were Presidential candidates, and nearly all of whom were members of the Republican National Convention that nominated Harrison for President—can explain their course upon the silver question and reconcile their legislative action and their final vote upon the bill, they will have done that which will go far toward their retention in office and the preservation of the respect they have so far maintained as honest men and intelligent statesmen.

Thanks, Dan, Thanks.

In the Honolulu Ka Elele Mei of May 30th, edited by Dan Lyons, the following flattering notice of the APPEAL appears:

E hoohele ia. E koho ia i komite o elima lala Carson APPEAL na lakou e noi pono i ka oiaio o kila Hale me ke kaulua ole. Ua heluhelu pu oia i keia palapala malalo lho penel.

The above is particularly agreeable, coming from the distant country that it does, but we feel that we scarcely deserve it.

THE JINGLERS.

The Jingers' Concert Company of Chicago, Ill., composed of the best talent, formerly with the "Nashville Students," Donovan's Tennesseans, "Slayton's," "Calender," and other companies, will give an entertainment of the choicest and best of native plantation melodies, old time Jubilee songs, solos, duets, quartets and a full chorus at the Carson Opera House Thursday, June 26th.

The Jingers were received with the wildest enthusiasm. —Chicago Tribune.

"For genuine vocal music, commend us to the Jingers, who give more melody and fun of a refined order than any three companies on the road." —Albany Democrat.

"The Jingers are immense." —Rev. A. C. Hirst, D. D., Pres. of the University of the Pacific.

The Jingers carry things with the sweep of a cyclone. —Southern California Advocate.

"Each member of the company is an artist in his way, and almost every number on the programme was encored." —San Francisco Call.

"Decidedly the best troupe of the kind that ever performed in this city." —Los Angeles Tribune.

"The concert given by the Jingers was a success in every way. Encores were repeated from the beginning of the entertainment to its close." —Orange, Cal. Tribune.

"A large audience greeted the Jingers last night and tonight there will be a larger one. Every song was encored and the house fairly shook with applause." —Santa Barbara Herald.
